HE ROBBED HIMSELF.

A Station Agent's Story Exploded, and He Is Arrested.

ROXBURY, N. Y., Oct. 16.—Station Agent Southwick, who stated last Thursday that he had been waylaid and robbed the previous night, of $300 belonging to the Stony Clove & Catskill Railroad Company, and the American Express Company, has been arrested, suspected of having committed the deed himself to hide the robbery.

At the time he told the story Southwick exhibited his clothing covered with mud, and a wounded finger, the top of which he claimed had been shot off, while he had been struggling with the highwaymen.

His story was believed by the people of Tannerville, where he had been agent for four years. Investigation by the officials of the company, however, revealed, it is said, conclusive evidence of Southwick's guilt and he was accordingly placed under arrest.

Before the meeting adjourned a Continental Union Club was formed with a large membership.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—An entry was made in the Baltimore Custom House, yesterday, of personal property of Sir William Gordon-Cumming. He will be remembered as being concerned in the Tranby Croft scandal.

TOLSON, Oct. 16.—F. J. Smith, who operates a Mergenthaler Linotype typesetting machine on the "Commercial," beat the world's record for machine composition, setting 17,900 sans corrected matter in exactly eight hours. His previous record was 33,900, made in Brooklyn.
